From these undeniable facts we see that all the bad influences created by crowded life, as du t, filth, fermentation, decay, etc. infinitely more to do with our lungs not give his pulmonary patients plenty of than diminished pressure of sir (elevation), low and probably lower than the level of probably interrupt perspiration. the sea where lung diseases are nearly unknown. But these plains are very thinly settled, and so extensive that the air from other unhealthy regions can hardly visit them, except in a very diluted form. And

But I think that elevation, taken as a synonym of thinner, rarified air, has as a synonym of tunder, rathed air, has a great deal to do above such places where the air is mixed with obnoxious impurities. With elevation, density, the specific gravity of the air, degravity of the air is considerably less. 1937 pm influence as those in the vallies, as some 231 am bad admixtures in the air, according to 3 42 a m | their greater sp cific gravity, would have to sink down? That may be so in part, but it may be done very slowly; and as the source of generation is so near the people, To use a short expression for a long explanation, I would say: Our lungs will rity of Mr. Shipe, and after the trial avoid all low, damp, marshy, crowded places. Where there is much life there is much decay, and so many mechanical, 4 25 a m | chemical and organic substances which poison the air. The difference in the inbuence of lowlands and crowded life, and life on the table lands and mountains, on our lungs, can nowhere be seen so striking but he could not see as he ought to While here in the vallies, and still more so in the towns, consumption is prevalent, I few days after that, Shipe and Bondid not see a single cases of it up on the ham met and had a difficulty, in table-land (Wartburg), where I lived for which Shine came out rather the seven years. If anybody would have to which Shipe came out rather the make a map to show the districts of East worst, and from that time the Tennessee where consumption prevails and where not, he would have to draw his lines right between the valleys and table-lands etc. In our high table-lands and mountains, we have all the salubrity any other country can afford. At the same time, our forests in the high-lands contain a considerable percentage of pine wood, whose exon the oxygen that a good part of it is blow in the back, and Bonham then Extra C purifier of sir in existence. "It has been the custom for quite a long time to recommend the pine woods as a place of residence for pulmonary invalids, but the 'wny' of the procedure has only re-cently been discovered." It is ozone. Will it ever be invented to produce ozone in such quantities as to not only disinrect sick rooms, hospitals, but even in large cities? Or will it ever be that enarect sick rooms, hospitals, but even in large cities? Or with it ever be that enlightened governments will respectfully listen to the doctrines of science and do as much for ventilation or even airoducts as they for instance already have done in Vienna for aquaeducts, where they lead a hobble large stream of water for 40 miles and his short time, if he had not been short. This idea of large alroducts may now look chimerical, but it will not do so in a century from now. What ventilation can do, we see in an striking instance, A bad epidemic of typhoid fever was raging in Vienna, the hospitals being filled with patients. The next hit Maj. prevent or cure consumptive lungs? Above all, have the air you breathe as pure as you can get it. If your constitution is tender, if you have a steady or often returning cough, if your lungs are softening, otten painful, it your breath is easily exhausted, the action of your heart frequently, or if you are the descendant of a consumptive family, if your sleep is rest-less and you feel rather tired than restored in the morning, then try, by all means, to go up in the mountains, from at least 1,600 up to several thousand feet high, and stay there as long as you can, at least two months. High table-lands, with plenty of pine timber, are, to my experience, best, ecause the streams of the valley air can not reach them so well as they could MINDERTAKER, mountains near the valley borders. There are pienty such high lands in East Tennessee and North Carolina which can compete, in salubrity for lung affections and general debilities, with almost any climate on the globe. As mentioned already, I know the salubrity of the table-lands in Morgan county, around Wartburg, from my own experience, and that of many others who went there for recovery. Similar reports we have from from the high lands of Asheville, North Carolina, where few years since a hospital for lung disea es, under the name of Moun-tain-Sanitarium, had been established by Dr. Gleitmann at his own private expense, the first mountain sanitaium in the United States in imitation of the humerous similar institutions which have sprurg up in Europe. Dr. Gleitsman is from competent sources recommended as a highly educated physician and the records of his institution prove his high capacity and experience in treating lung diseases.

In Wartburg also is a good, old experienced physician, but patients have to stay in boarding or private houses. For both of these places railroads are constructing that for Wartburg is nearly finished. Now a word to get to those who are not able to leave their homes. Our lungs are air organs; the change of blood, the warmth of the whole system depends on them. Therefore, avoid all places who e air can be contaminated. Do not live in low, est that the country afford, and no pairs will damp, marshy places. Keep your houses o spared to make the early Hover First clean and ventilated. Besides this, there is a considerable perspiration from the bodies, which also makes the air impure. In fact, that which you are afraid of, the night air, is your very benefactor, because if it would not not penetrate every crevice and crack of your rooms, you most probably would be corpses in the morning. had been previously expired and "re-breathed." This 'rebreathed air," he asserted, contained organic substances which gave rise to disease in the lungs. He went as far as te say that there would be no pulmonary consumption if every one would sleep with open doors and windows. These principles, though not adhered to by physicians at first, nevertheless proved true by and by, and there will be certainly no learned physician now-a-days who would fresh and good air day and night, providing that no draft would hit the sick and

"RECENT CHANGES."

Wilmot L. Warren.

From Bon. Wm. M. Evarte, Secretary of State

A useful collection of public documents is published by A. S. Barnes & Co. in "The Con-stitution of the Several States of the Union and stitution of the Several States of the Union and United States" prior to the commencement of the Civil War. The volume also includes the Declaration of Independence, the Articles of Contederation and an Essay on Recent Changes in American State Constitutions, by Wilmot L. Warren. The comparative views which it presents of the Constitutions of the different States render it a convenient book of reference, and an almost indispensable addition to the political library.

THE KNOXVILLE CHRONICLE FOR 1879. Subscribe for a Good, Reliable News

The Daily CHRONICLE, and WEEKLY WHIG AND CHRONICLE. will be kept up during the year 1879 to their usual high standard. By enterprise, accurateness, and close attention to the wants of our readers, we hope to merit a continuation of the liberal patronage heretofore extended these journals.

Nearly nine years ago, when there was not a Republican daily in the State, and only two or three in the South, we commenced the publication of the CHRONICLE. In all these years we have battled for Republican principles, and see no reason to change our course now. Hence we shall continue to publish a truthful, reliable Republican journal, not the organ of any man or clique, but the outspoken and fearless advocate of principles, measures and men, best calculated to promote the welfare of the country and the Republican party.

We will endeavor to make our agricultural columns worth more to farmers than our subscription price.

As a newspaper our publications shall not be excelled in the State. In addition to our telegraphic dispatches from all parts of the world, our readers shall have the benefit of correspondence and every other means through which reliable information is obtained,

Each number of the paper will contain selections made with special reference to the home circle. We will continue to avoid everything calculated to contaminate, and will publish a paper that may be taken without question within the sacred precints of the family circle.

Our market reports shall have close attention, and be made entirely correct and reliable.

We call upon all persons interested in the publication of our independent, fearless, reliable Repub lican journal to come to our aid and assist in extending the circulation of the DAILY CHRONICLE and
